

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear abuse of the public airwaves for political use.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But its abuse of this right by airing an anti-Kerry piece under the guise of "news" is frightening. The use of our public airwaves to advance a company's political agenda is illegal, dangerous and must be stopped.
